

Off the Basel Path 2010

Written By Crystal Brewe

DECEMBER 2010

David Castillo Gallery Speaking of Scholl, the David Castillo Gallery gave Dennis the proverbial keys to curate their December exhibit, and out of this has sprung "The Maginot Line." Castillo never disappoints, but this exhibit is especially interesting and features a laundry list of the best and brightest, with works on paper by Daniel Arsham, Ben Berlow, Michael Berryhill, Willem de Kooning, Jean Dubuffet, Mark Grotjahn, Marie Lorenz, Pepe Mar, Jillian Mayer, Kirsten Nash, Kori Newkirk, William J. O'Brien, and Claes Oldenburg. David Castillo Gallery, 2234 NW 2nd Ave., 305-573-8110, www.davidcastillogallery.com.

As you go out and get your Basel on, join the thousands who are curating their own conversations, proclamations, and snarky jokes by tweeting your experiences to the world. I want to hear what you have to say, and what other recommendations you have. Please include my tag so I can hear from you @cbrewe.
