

5 Must-See Exhibitions in Miami During Art Basel

Posted by Shana Beth Mason on November 13, 2014

José Lerma: Guaynabichean Odyssey

A little fun never hurt anyone, and it couldn't be truer for visual art, even at the blue-chip level. José Lerma has shown his oft-frenetic, bustling works at museums and galleries in the U.S., Japan, Germany, the U.K., Spain, and France. David Castillo's new space on Lincoln Road in Miami Beach is, seemingly, a perfect setting for Lerma's flurry of faces and forms bursting with primary colors and simmering energy (December 1, 2014–January 31, 2015).