

The Miami Dozen

What's Miami's arts landscape like when Art Basel isn't in town? An exhibition opening this month offers a dozen possibilities. Deconstruction: A Reordering of Life, Politics and Art showcases 12 Miami artists, whose work ranges from cross-cultural awakenings they've experienced in the city to current events in the frenetic social-media stream. Christening the 10th anniversary celebration of the Patricia & Phillip Frost Art Museum FIU from July 14-Sept. 30, the exhibit is curated by Amy Galpin.

Craig Coleman's I Will Not Die is part of Pepe Mar's large-scale homage to the late artist and his South Beach drag alter-ego, Varla. Coleman died of complications related to AIDS/HIV in 1995.
