

ARTNEWS

‘The World’s Game: Fútbol and Contemporary Art’ at Pérez Art Museum Miami

BY The Editors of ARTnews POSTED 06/25/18 1:58 PM

Today’s show: “The World’s Game: Fútbol and Contemporary Art” is on view at the Pérez Art Museum Miami in Florida through Saturday, September 2. The group exhibition, timed to coincide with the 2018 FIFA World Cup, presents work of other 40 artists, including Lyle Ashton Harris, Kehinde Wiley, Gustavo Artigas, Roberto Guerrero, Quisqueya Henriquez, Wendy White, Hank Willis Thomas, Stephen Dean, Jaime Lauriano, and Ronny Quevedo.

Lyle Ashton Harris, Verona #1, 2001, gelatin silver print.

SID HOELTZELL/©LYLE ASHTON HARRIS/COLLECTION PEREZ ART MUSEUM MIAMI

Wendy White, Green Brigade, 2013, acrylic on canvas, wood, enamel, and inkjet print on vinyl.
COURTESY THE ARTIST AND DAVID CASTILLO GALLERY

Quisqueya Henriquez, Jugando con la Adversidad, 2001-6, reconstructed athletic balls.
COLLECTION ENRIQUE KNOBLOCH AND COTA COHEN-KNOBLOCH COURTESY DAVID CASTILLO GALLERY

Quisqueya Henríquez, Jugando con la Adversidad (detail), 2001-6, reconstructed athletic balls.
COLLECTION ENRIQUE KNOBLOCH AND COTA COHEN-KNOBLOCH COURTESY DAVID CASTILLO GALLERY