For his debut solo exhibition in Miami, Studio Lenca presents oil and acrylic paintings that combine symbology and history. Characterized by colourful patterning, the artist's work features the recurring figures of Los Historiantes: Salvadoran folk-tellers who dance to tell of the Christian reconquest of Spain from the Moors. Donning wide-brimmed hats, these storytellers are often accompanied by a twin, as seen in Lejos (2025) and Paisaje (2025). The paintings also feature lively landscapes and vegetation that wraps around the figures' bodies, signifying growth and the potential to adapt to new circumstances.
